Dear Mr. McGuinty:

I would like to thank you and your staff for the contribution you made to making our Parliament 101: The Public Service Commission's Relationship with Parliament information session such a resounding success.

Given the many demands on your time, your generosity in speaking with us and answering our questions in such an honest and straightforward way was most appreciated.

The highlight of the day for participants, without a doubt, was the unexpected privilege and thrill of visiting the historic House of Commons chamber and hearing your personal views and reminiscences.

Thanks to your involvement, I know PSC staff left the session with a much better understanding of the priorities and challenges that Parliamentarians deal with on a daily basis.

Yours sincerely,

Maria Barrados, PhD
